

PMI-ACP

To help prepare for your PMI-ACP exam, I have provided a number of test questions based on my experience with Agile and from teaching Agile PMI-ACP certification courses. If you're looking for more additional training and prep questions, check out the leading provider of technology training, SimpliLearn.

Array

What is the standard timebox for the Daily Scrum?

- A. Two minutes per person
- B. 30 minutes
- C. 15 minutes for a 4 week sprint, 10 minutes for a 2 week sprint
- D. 15 minutes only

Answer

How many roles are specified in Scrum?

- A. Three
- B. Six plus or minus two
- C. Six plus or minus three
- D. Three

Answer

The Agile Manifesto States “Individuals and Interactions over... ?

- A. Comprehensive documentation

- B. Top down management and tooling
- C. Processes and tools
- D. Contract negotiation

Answer

Test Driven Development is best described as:?

- A. Write a test, watch it fail, write some code, watch it pass
- B. All Acceptance tests must pass for a card to be considered complete
- C. All code that is checked in must be compiled against the master build and pass integration tests
- D. Tests determine the pace of development

Answer

At what point is an iteration completed?

- A. When all user stories assigned to the iteration are complete.
- B. When the Product Owner agrees that the goals of the iteration are met.
- C. When the iteration's timebox is complete.
- D. When all tasks in the iteration have met the definition of done.

Answer

- A. Maintain a sustainable pace (a 40 hour work week)
- B. There is no code ownership to ensure that programmers do not have to maintain code indefinitely
- C. Assisting the welfare of another programmer through the use of paired programming

D. Programmers should have a clear understanding of code standards to ensure their welfare.

Answer

A. Performance

B. Throughput

C. Waste

D. Time

Answer

A. Total Parity System

B. Total Product Stories

C. Toyota Production System

D. Target Production System

Answer